20th SUNDAY in ORDINARY TIME, YEAR A

19 / 20 August 2023

READINGS

Isaiah 56:1, 6-7

I will lead the foreigners to my holy mountain.

Romans 11:13-15, 29-32 The gifts and call of God are irrevocable.

GOSPEL

Matthew 15:21-28

Woman, you have great faith.

After last weekend's reading giving us moments of God's self revelation, this weekend shows us the extent of God's inclusive plan for humanity.

When the Israelites returned from Exile, they found that many foreigners had moved into the land which once they had called their own. How was living with non-Israelites compatible with Israel's sense of identity as a holy people, set apart for the service and worship of God? In the First Reading, Isaiah presents a bold vision where God will actually bring to the 'holy mountain' (the Temple mount) foreigners who have attached themselves to the Lord, making of the Temple 'a house of prayer for all the peoples'. The privilege of worshipping God is so central to Israel's identity that it is hard to think of a stronger expression of inclusivity than this.

In the Second Reading inclusiveness works the other way round, so to speak. The bulk of Israel has said 'No' to the Gospel of the Crucified Christ. Does this mean they have forfeited the chance of salvation? No, says Paul: the God who has worked to include the nations of the world will not fail to act inclusively in favour of the original chosen people, for God's 'gifts and calling are irrevocable'. God is faithful, even when we are not.

In the Gospel, Jesus has moved beyond the territory of the Jewish people, into the northern region of Tyre and Sidon. Here he encounters a Gentile woman – again very clearly identified as a Canaanite from that region. In Matthew this is the first explicit encounter with a non-Jew. The Canaanite woman asks Jesus to heal her daughter and Jesus states his understanding of his mission, 'only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel'. With superb wit and faith, she takes up Jesus' image and turns it against him (or at least against the restrictive attitude he is displaying) and Jesus accedes to her request and heals her daughter. In effect, Jesus changes his understanding of his mission to include Gentiles.

When this Gospel was being written this story would have been very important, for some disciples were taking the Gospel to the Gentiles, while others still thought of a mission primarily within Judaism. This episode would have helped the community to reach out beyond the narrow confines of Judaism as Jesus did on this occasion. We know from the Acts of the Apostles, that when Gentiles joined with Jewish disciples they had problems about eating together. Matthew's Gospel in these episodes addresses this pastoral situation by indicating that real Eucharist is only possible when all are welcome to the Lord's Table.

How do we respond to this vigorous model of prayer, the outsider who argues with Jesus as Abraham, Moses and Job argued with God? How do we respond to these images of the inclusivity of God? How do we live this inclusivity?

WE PRAY FOR THOSE WHO HAVE DIED

ENTRANCE: ALL ARE WELCOME

1. Let us build a house where love can dwell and all
can safely live,
A place where saints and children tell how hearts
learn to forgive.

Built of hopes and dreams and visions, rock of
faith and vault of grace;

Here the love of Christ shall end divisions:

*All are welcome, all are welcome,
all are welcome in this place.*

4. Let us build a house where hands will reach beyond the wood and stone
to heal and strengthen, serve and teach, and live
the Word they've known.

Here the outcast and the stranger bear the image
of God's face;

let us bring an end to fear and danger:

*All are welcome, all are welcome,
all are welcome in this place.*

APOSTLE'S CREED

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.
Amen.

EUCCHARISTIC ACCLAMATION

When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup, we proclaim your death, O Lord, until you come again.
