28th SUNDAY in ORDINARY TIME, YEAR A

14 / 15 October 2023

READINGS

Isaiah 25:6-10

The Lord will prepare a feast and will wipe away the tears from every cheek.

Philippians 4:12-14, 19-20

I am able to do all things in him who strengthens me.

GOSPEL

Matthew 22:1-14

Whomever you find invite to the wedding.

Like the vineyard from the last couple of weeks, the banquet or feast is another prevalent image in Scripture and would also have been a familiar cultural norm that draws the hearer to the familiar.

Finally, like with the vineyard, perhaps we should stop and consider the chosen image before going further. Banquets and feasts do not happen easily or quickly. They take planning, time and effort. So as we hear today's readings, we hear behind the story a God of planning, time and effort.

The First Reading, speaks of God's designs for humanity under the image of a splendid banquet to which they are invited. As God hosted the leaders of Israel at a banquet on Mt Sinai when the covenant was concluded and that symbolised the union between God and people (Exodus 24), so this banquet symbolises the realisation of universal salvation – all the nations confessing 'this is our God'. This banquet is an invitation not an imposition. In a touching reference to God as immanent and present to each one, God will personally wipe away tears and shame to show that all are welcome in God's presence.

The parable of the Wedding Banquet that makes up the Gospel, is the Matthean version of a parable that appears in rather different forms in the early tradition (cf. Luke 14:15-24). Luke version is likely closer to the original, but Matthew is writing this for his community, predominately Jewish, who have witnessed the destruction of Jerusalem. They must have been asking themselves if God really was faithful. And so, this parable's first invitation is the invitation of God from the Prophets, the second is likely the invitation from the early Christians. Israel (as a people) has rejected both invitations, so the invitation has now gone out to the Gentiles, those "at the cross-roads". However, Matthew adds one final new element, the person not dressed properly. Matthew's community are the ones who have received and responded to the Gospel's invitation, but even in this group there is the need for the invitation to transform. While the invitation is offered generously to all, if you take it up then there are responsibilities.

It is important to realise that Matthew's interpretation of the destruction of Jerusalem as God's punishment on the Jewish people, was also the way many of the Jewish Rabbis at this time interpreted this event. Where the Rabbis spoke of Israel's infidelity to the covenant as the cause, Matthew sees the cause as the rejection and crucifixion of Jesus. Both Jews and Christians are trying to make sense of an event that was as significant and unexpected in their time as the event of 9/11 was in our time.

The Second Reading, shares the 'banquet' theme at least in its expression of Paul's confidence in the 'lavishness' with which God will reward the generosity of the Philippians. The letter was thanks for the gift of provisions for his ministry, but Paul normally made a habit of not accepting such gifts. Today's reading has Paul showing the Philippian Church that he does not think of himself in need, he trusts to God what he really needs. Paul's contentment contrasts with our modern age of aspiration and entitlement.

Each year our Books of Remembrance are updated to record the names of deceased loved ones of our Parish. These books are on display in St Bernard's church and the page is turned daily so that names are displayed on their anniversary each year.

Those whose funerals were held in our churches are automatically entered in the Books of Remembrance. If you wish to have relatives or friends who died elsewhere remembered in this way, please provide the following details on the forms available at each church and place in the box provided by 16 October:

- Name of the deceased;
- Date of death in day/month/year format eg 4/8/1998

The Bethany Mass will be held at St Bernard's Church on Saturday 4 November at 9.00am. It is a beautiful way to remember those whom we loved who have died, and a blessing of the Columbarium is a fitting way to conclude this celebration.

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried; he descended into hell; on the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty; from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting. Amen.
