EIGHTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME YEAR B

3 / 4 August 2024

READINGS

Exodus 16:2-4, 12-15 I will rain bread from heaven upon you.

Ephesians 4:17, 20-24 Put on the new person that has been created in God's image.

GOSPEL

John: 6:24-35

Whoever comes to me will never be hungry; whoever believes in me will never thirst.

The complaints that open the First Reading are in contrast to the earlier Exodus story where Israel has seen God's strength and faithfulness many times. But the fear of the unknown and a fragile faith brings out the complaints. Being afraid of the unknown can bring out the instinctive reaction is to retreat to the known, even if this is slavery. Fear and distrust can also create a distorted perception and memory of the past: slaves would most likely not have enjoyed the rich fare that the Israelites allege they had in Egypt.

Thankfully God meets us where we are. In this story, this means providing food for the complaining, untrusting Israel. Of particular connection to our Gospel is the bread-like manna. The Hebrew word manna is derived from the Israelites' question when they saw this strange food: 'what is it?' (in Hebrew man hu). While there are suggestions as to what this food might be, the point of the biblical text is to claim that God can miraculously provide food where there is, according to human perception, none. This miracle also becomes a point of growth—will the people listen to and trust God, and do what God asks (another Gospel parallel where Jesus' miracles lead to opportunities for "instructing" either the disciples or the crowd).

In the Gospel, the loaves/fishes miracles of last Sunday now leads into a very long discourse on the deeper meaning of this miracle. Jesus uses physical food as a metaphor for a deeper nourishment, what he calls, 'food that endures to eternity life'. This would be familiar imagery, for in the Old Testament God's gifts of wisdom and the Law were likened to food. Within Judaism 'eating manna' became a symbolic way of describing being sustained by following the Law.

But the people want a sign—basically they are asking Jesus to prove he is from God, using the Old Testament proof of a prophet. Jesus instead continues teaching, using their question as the text/keywords of his answer.

This passage shows an effort to communicate across differing religious beliefs. The Jewish crowd are not simply dismissed, nor do the Jews lightly walk away from Jesus. They enter into a vigorous theological debate. When we speak today of ecumenical and inter-religious dialogue, it calls from both parties integrity and fidelity to one's own commitments, while respectfully listening to the position of the other.

The Second Reading is a wisdom teaching—there are two ways of living, make sure to choose the better path. And this choice means dramatic change, "re-creation" in the language of the New Testament.

Dear Parish Community

As you may already be aware, next week 7/8th August the Bishops, Priests and Deacons of the Archdiocese of Brisbane are gathering for their Annual Clergy Convocation. If you have the opportunity, could you please take some time this weekend, and over the week ahead to pray for this important gathering in the Archdiocese.

You might like to pray that the Holy Spirit fill the hearts of all those who gather and enlighten their hearts and minds to be open to the presence of Jesus Christ, seeking to faithfully follow him in this time.

I appreciate your consideration of this invitation.

Blessings

Rev Dr David Pascoe

APOSTLE'S CREED

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.
Amen.

EUCHARISTIC ACCLAMATION

When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup, we proclaim your Death, O Lord, until you come again.
